Dear Parents and Carers,

What a very different first week back at school!

I hope you have all got to grips with the zoom timetable and Class Dojo once more. It's been wonderful seeing everyone in online lessons last week – thank you for your support in facilitating remote learning. A very big thank you to all the teachers for being so flexible and calm and adapting to the new way of teaching so quickly for this half term, in and out of school.

As children will be spending more time online and on devices over the next few weeks, both for school and leisure time, please find below some links to useful websites to support you in keeping your children safe online at home. Remind them about the importance of not giving out personal information to people, and if anyone or anything online worries them remind them that they can talk to you and ask you for help without being in trouble.

Teacher Planning Time

All teachers have some planning time given to them each week to prepare lessons, resources and make assessments. Teachers will take one afternoon a week this half term, there will be no zoom call for pupils then, instead some independent activities or a project will be set for pupils to work on. The time table for Class 2-4 is below:

Class 2 – Friday afternoons

Class 3 – Wednesday afternoons

Class 4 – Friday afternoons

Any questions or concerns about anything I am in school every day, please call or email me.

Compassion – Honesty – Aspiration – Respect – Responsibility

We are working out ways to get reading books in particular to the younger children, and to those in Class 3 and 4 if needed. This week we have in place book packs for Class 2 to pick up between 8.45-9am and 3.15-3.30pm on the green, to be returned in a fortnight for some new ones.

Next week we will have packs for Class 1 to pick up at the same times. 2

Thank you again for working so well with your class teachers in supporting your child at home.

Keep safe,

Have a good week,

Ruth Baugh
Headteacher
